JIM DWORAK (K16UOX)

Wanted to send this out to inform club members that Jim Dworak's (K16UOX) treatment is progressing well although he's not quite well enough to join us on a regular basis. He would love to hear from his fellow hams (he would prefer to get mail rather than phone calls) though so if you have a moment drop him a note at the address below. Jim always brings a smile along with him wherever he goes.

VE TEST SESSION

The next VE session will be 9:00 A.M., November 2nd at 715 King Ave., Yuba City.

VE's are needed to administer the exam. The elements for Technician, General, and Extra class will be offered. A calculator may also be used as long as it has had all of its memories cleared and there are no built in or preprogrammed formulas.

If you are upgrading to a higher class you need to bring your license and a photocopy of the license.

If you take an exam and pass, you can take the next higher class exam for no additional cost. If you do not pass and wish to try again an additional fee will be required.

Good luck to everyone taking exams.

REPORT CAUSES CONCERN AND CONFUSION IN CALIFORNIA'S AMATEUR RADIO RANKS

By all credible and reliable accounts, the State of California has not turned its back on Amateur Radio as an emergency communication resource nor have established repeater owners been asked to remove their equipment from state-owned sites unless they pay sizeable fees. The California controversy, inflamed by a viral YouTube video, stemmed from a California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection (CAL FIRE) communication telling a repeater owner or group that Amateur Radio equipment would have to be removed from a state-owned site or "vault" if the owner(s) determined the cost was too great to proceed with a formal application to keep it there.

"I do understand and appreciate all of the service you have provided in the past," CAL FIRE's Lorina Pisi, told the unknown repeater owner(s) or group(s) last month. "However, with constantly changing technological advances, there is no longer the same benefit to State as previously provided. Therefore, the Department no longer financially supports HAM operators [sic] radios or tenancy. If you desire to enter into a formal agreement to operate and maintain said equipment, you must complete and submit attached collocation application along with fee as outlined on page one of application. There is cost associated with getting an agreement in place."

It's not clear to whom Pisi's memo was addressed, since any name or names were redacted from the version of the memo that is being circulated. ARRL reached out to Pisi this week but has not heard back.

After receiving a lengthy communication from attorney Nathan Zeliff, K6DPS, of Shingletown, California, citing Pisi's letter, Shasta County Sheriff Tom Bosenko did some asking around of his own. He reported that Jim Price, the Communications Center Operation Officer for the State Office of Emergency Services, explained to him that the matter is not a new one, and the issue of repeater equipment in state radio vaults has been going on for 5 years or longer.

"He said this gets down to a local level, if the local officials feel there is a need to have the ham radio repeaters in vaults in their area," Bosenko told Zeliff. "As such, this gets down to authorization for vault space, clearances and authorization to access equipment in the vaults and contract agreements for the equipment to be in the vaults. The matter of cost and who will bear the cost for contracts and vault space has also been an issue for years."

ARRL officials who have also looked into the situation agree that it's been blown out of proportion by parties with their own agendas.

VALLEY HAM NEWS

“The State of California has not made any determination we can find ‘that Ham Radio [is] no longer a benefit,’” Pacific Division Director Jim Tiemstra, K6JAT, is quoted on the Sacramento Valley Section website. “What happened is that CAL FIRE has transferred responsibility for its communications sites to its property management department. That department has the task of evaluating each site, its condition, use, and tenants. If a repeater not known to be associated with the emergency management function of a local jurisdiction is found in a CAL FIRE vault, the default action is to move it out or subject it to commercial rental rates.”

“Our contact in the California Office of Emergency Services suggests that, if any affected repeater is in any way involved with local emergency or government support activity, they should ask that agency to engage with CAL FIRE concerning the repeater. If the agency makes the case, there is a good chance that the repeater will be unaffected,” Tiemstra added.

ARRL Southwestern Division Director Dick Norton, N6AA, has been responding to inquiries with the same message.

Membership Notification of Proposed Changes to YSARC Bylaws

Date November 5, 2019

Bylaw: Article II; Section 1

Motion # 1 Article name: Membership

Section title: Eligibility for Membership

The Board of Directors moves to amend the Bylaws in Article II; Membership; Section 1 Eligibility for Membership, by deleting current language and proposing new language.

Rationale:

In order for the Yuba-Sutter Amateur Radio Club (YSARC) to remain an American Relay Radio League (ARRL) affiliate club, the YSARC must maintain a minimum of 51 percent of its voting member as ARRL members. ARRL, as a condition of membership requires the individual to hold a valid Federal Communications Commission, (FCC) Amateur Radio license. As of June 2019 the YSARC membership roster shows that approximately 52 percent of members are current ARRL members. Due to the relatively small membership, it would only take one or two YSARC members to not renew their ARRL membership to drop the YSARC's ARRL membership to below 51 percent. This would cause the YSARC to lose its ARRL club affiliation.

Current Language:

~~Section 1: ELIGIBILITY FOR MEMBERSHIP: All persons having an active interest in Amateur Radio shall be eligible for membership in the corporation, so long as said person pays his dues and complies with all other requirements for membership as set out hereafter. Provided, however, that no such person shall be eligible to hold an elected or appointed position other than "member" unless he holds a valid and current renewable Amateur Radio Operator license issued by the Federal Communications Commission at the time of such election.~~

New Language:

Section 1: ELIGIBILITY FOR MEMBERSHIP: All persons having an active interest in Amateur Radio shall be eligible for membership in the corporation, so long as said person pays his dues and complies with all other requirements for membership as set out hereafter:

(1.) Full Membership: Voting membership includes all persons with a valid Federal Communications Commission amateur radio license.

(1.a.) Family Full Membership: Voting membership includes immediate family (spouse and children) with a valid Federal Communications Commission amateur radio license.

(2) Associate Membership: Any person having an interest in Amateur Radio.

(2.a.) Associate Family Membership: Any family member (spouse and children) of a person holding a full or associate membership

VALLEY HAM NEWS

Only persons holding a Voting Membership shall be eligible to hold an elected or appointed position at the time of such election or appointment.
